Aim

To provide a real scout life in the open for every boy.

To keep the
OUT in SCOUT-
ING.

To help each Scout to measure up to the big ideals in the Scout Oath, i. e.
"To keep himself physically strong, mentally awake, and morally straight."

To stimulate love for the outdoors.

To assist each Scout to progress in his Scout work.

Eats

An excellent chef will have charge of the commissary. The menus are adapted to the needs of the boy. The food is simple, wholesome, well cooked, and plenty of it. The milk, eggs, and fresh vegetables will be supplied from farms nearby.

After each meal you'll hear the boys yell—

"The eats are very go-o-O-D."

Mail Address

The rural delivery will bring the mail to the Camp every day. Mail address is Camp Ken Jockety, Boy Scout Camp.

There is no need for a boy to be homesick with mail delivery so frequent. Boys are urged to write home every day.

Swimming

A sandy beach and good clear water just at the foot of the hills offer an excellent opportunity for swimming. Diamond Lake is the swimming spot you long for. There will be two swimming periods a day, supervised by an expert swimming instructor. Here is a good chance for the boys who do not know how, to learn to swim. No boy will be permitted to go into the water at any other time.

A pier and diving platform will be constructed. This is an attraction in itself to any swimmer.

"C'mon in, the water is fine."
